I received a telephone voicemail message late Friday afternoon, December 14th from Jerry Hascall of DG&T. He indicated that he was almost done with their LMO submission (which was due that day), but would need a couple more days to complete same.

I called him back 1st thing Monday when I retrieved his message. I left a voicemail response that a couple more days would be acceptable to us. I received an email message this morning from Mr. Hascall stating that he would have the LMO delivered to our office by this Thursday, December 20th. I responded in kind accepting this timeframe.
